Student Identification Number (SID)

If you completed the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and did not report your parent's information because of unusual circumstances go to Section 1. If your parent refuses to provide their information on the FAFSA go to Section 2.

1. Unusual Circumstances

- My request to be independent of my parents for financial aid purposes was approved last year and my family situation has not changed.
- I have an unusual family situation, making it difficult to obtain my parents' information. Examples include, but are not limited to: abusive family environment, abandonment, incarceration or institutionalization of both parents, parents lacking the physical or mental capacity to raise a child, parents cannot be located, etc.

To complete an appeal for unusual circumstances also submit the following items along with this form:

- ✓ A written statement describing your special circumstance(s).
- ✓ Two letters from outside parties (i.e. counselors, teachers, physician, clergy member) who have knowledge of your circumstances. Letters can be on official letterhead or notarized.

2. Parent Refusal

- My parent(s) do not want to provide their information on the FAFSA and they do not and will not provide any financial support for me. Financial support includes payment of educational expenses, cash and non-cash support, or any living expenses (including living at home with my parents). To approve a Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan, we require the following certification from your parent.
