

OFFICE OF BUSINESS AND FINANCE

RE: Cost of course materials/textbooks for fall 2024

Dear Texas College Student,

During the summer of 2023, Texas College faculty and select staff began working with a digital textbook vendor named Redshelf. Texas College's goal in collaborating with Redshelf was to ensure that all enrolled students had access to course materials. Because the collaboration with Redshelf was still in the early stages of development, the College decided to make all course materials available for students to use during the 2023-2024 academic year, at no cost to students. If you attended Texas College during the fall 2023 and/or spring 2024 semesters then you may have noticed the course materials that were accessible to you via your JICS account.

Texas College will continue to provide course materials to all enrolled students, at no cost to the students for the fall 2024 semester. Both Texas College Administration and the faculty strongly encourage you to take advantage of the resources. We encourage you to let us know how we can improve the cost, quality, and delivery of course materials and we will be seeking your feedback in the upcoming weeks and months regarding Redshelf digital textbooks and the services rendered.

On behalf of the entire Texas College family, we hope you have wonderful, safe and productive semester!

Warm Regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Millicent L Rickenbacker', with a large, sweeping flourish above the name.

Ms. Millicent L Rickenbacker, MBA
Vice President for Business and Finance

Cc: Jan E. Duncan, Ph.D.
Vice President for Academic Affairs